LUCY

GN5510

GLORY NIGHT'S LUCY memory foam mattress is a triple layered combination of both foam and memory foam to keep users feeling as light as a feather while they rest, with two supporting base layers that enhance motion transfer resistance so you will not be disturbed if your partner moves out of bed. The top layer provides you with a ventilating and contouring sleep experience, increasing breathability from within the mattress. These three layers combined provide every benefit expected of a traditional memory foam mattress, plus added support for a deep undisturbed Glory Night to remember.

ATRIA

GN7540

GLORY NIGHT'S ATRIA is a triple layered mattress combined with gel foam and an innovative top layer of soft-gel memory foam. The top layer of soft-gel memory foam increases air flow, making your experience cooler while you rest. The second gel foam layer reduces the effect of pressure points providing comfort, and eliminating tossing and turning while maintaining a cool temperature distribution throughout the mattress. The base layer supports your body's weight and reduces motion transfer, allowing you to move freely without waking your partner. These three layers combined deliver a Glory Night to remember.
